The University of Toronto’s Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters outlines the behaviours that constitute academic misconduct, the processes for addressing academic offences, and the penalties that may be imposed. Potential offences include, but are not limited to:

- Obtaining or providing unauthorized assistance on an online test/exam – this includes working in groups on a test/exam that is supposed to be individual work.
- Using or possessing any unauthorized aid, including a cell phone, or searching for answers online.
- Looking at someone else’s answers, or working together to answer questions.
- Letting someone else look at your answers.
- Misrepresenting your identity or having someone else complete your test/exam.

All suspected cases of academic dishonesty will be investigated following the procedures outlined in the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters.
